August 15, 2009

My beloved blessed children, how glorious a day it is today. How glorious is every day when God is first in your lives. My children, allow for every area of darkness in your life to be removed. Let the light shine, and the love of God will remove the destruction of sin in your soul.

My children, how joyful I am to see families worship together. When families worship together, Satan's kingdom is melted with this kind of love. Seek, seek to pray together. Bondages of every kind will be broken in families. The greater the unity, the more victories you will have over sickness and disease in your family.

My children, you need each other. You need each other's comfort of love. My children, I sorrow upon seeing the many, many destructions of the Holy Families. My children, the scales of injustice and destruction of my families will be overturned with you coming together and praying. Pray the rosary. Pray, pray, pray for those in authority over you that God will triumph.

My children run under my mantle of love, of mercy. I am your mother. My children, remember, I am only a thought away. I am not far away. I am as close as your heart.

My holy ones seek after being holy that grace alone can bring about the conversion of your heart. My children, do not neglect the sacrament of the Church that brings to you life and those desires to seek after holiness.

My children, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here today. [1]

September 5, 2009 [2]

My beloved sons, thank you for responding to my call.

My sons, thank you for your sacrifice – I have taken it to heart. Know my beloveds that our Almighty and Omnipotent Father is smiling, for he sees the struggle, and in this struggle, you are becoming the warriors for his kingdom. There is no mistake that he has called you to be men – men of God. It is no mistake he has called you here.

---

[1] Special message from Our Lady, "I want to thank all my ambassadors for loving enough to bring their time and support to my children."

[2] Mary Constancio wrote in her journal before she received the message from our Lady:" I see what seems to be a courtroom, God as judge, Jesus as the Advocate, our Blessed Mother as the one praying. All the men are lined up one at a time and each one being vindicated with the Blood of Jesus. The spirit of condemnation is being lifted off of you."

Broadcast on November 5,2026

My beloved sons, I welcome you most joyously into a new path set for you by our Lord.

My beloveds, learn to be meek and humble as my sons: for too many of you, this will be a great sacrifice of love. As my son, the teacher will teach you as his students to be docile as a reed blowing in the wind: the wind of the Holy Spirit: ever so gentle, and kind and firm.

My beloveds, do not fear, for God will give you the grace to be those men of God that will run to the Goliath of your life. My sons, be ever so ready. Be ready.

My sons, thank you for being here tonight.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.