My beloved children, the heavens are in awe of what they see: these men of God that struggle to do the will of God. I ask for the grace of perseverance and wisdom for each and all of you. God in his great, great and magnificent mercy is showering you at this very moment with the grace to endure your trials in joy and the resolution to wait on God. My sons, how much joy you have brought to the kingdom of God. There has been a great battle, and the battle continues to pound this generation with division. Be ever so ready to stand firm in your commitments, and most especially those you have done in the name of the Holy Trinity: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here tonight.

Mary Constancio asked the Blessed Mother, "What was happening in the world and especially with the reduced number of persons coming to the retreats"? The following was her reply:

My daughter, you are seeing part of the Chastisement: Men have chosen to do their will. They have cried out to be free of God, free to do all kinds of evil without consequences. If you choose to live without God, you choose death; you choose to be in Satan's playground, which has no mercy, only death of the soul, heart, and your conscious.

You are seeing and feeling the wrath of Satan against the victory of the Cross.

My child, it is so important that you protect your family with the blood of my son: the Lamb of God. Like in the day of Moses when the blood was on the doorposts, so must you place this protection around your hearts, your mind, and your soul.

This is not to bring you fear, but it is to bring you to stand and gird your loins in the holiness of God. You have been called to defend the Body of Christ.

I see a darkness that covered the nation when the new administration took over: the demons of death have been unleashed. Repent if you have been involved in any way with abortions. Cleanse your hands of any blood sacrifices. Bring to me your holy praises unto God, and together the triumph of the cross will come at the appointed time.

There are now, at this moment, all kinds of inconceivable sacrifices being done. Only thru the sacrifice of the Sacred and Powerful Blood of Jesus will this be put to an end.

Be ever so ready to say yes when I call on you. Come forward and be Disciple of Mercy.
